Heavenall of them angels. The air is sweet with luminescence, and harmony dances in the laughter of the celestials.

"Welcome, traveler!" coos a voice nearby, breaking through your overwhelm. A seraph, with gossamer wings stretching like billowing clouds, glides by with a playful wink. "Youa mixture of fear and euphoria. Something is stirring deep within you, an instinct pushing you to embrace this new wonder. But, just as you begin to fathom the enormity of this place, an inexplicable force starts to envelop your being.

Tickle.
A small giggle escapes your lips, almost involuntary.

Your body tingles; warmth cascades over your skin as it begins to shift. You glance down in horror and awe as your skin lightens to a pure, sterile white. "What is happening to me?" you whisper, the sound of your voice inexplicably lightening as well, resonating with an ethereal pitch.

"Embrace it!" exclaims another seraph nearby, her wings shimmering gold against the azure backdrop. You canre becoming what you were meant to be!"

With every whimsically graceful moment, your body transforms furthers the sound of a long-forgotten song. Memories ripple through your mind, but they are dimthe funny little daydreams of a human life seem but mere shadows now, unable to anchor you any longer.

With each passing heartbeat, your essence recalibrates in this celestial realm. You chuckle, a sound both youthful and liberating.

announces a wise cherub as they flutter nearby, their smile radiating warmth. "You Yes, yes!this magnificent seraphim, blessed with powers untold, free from the depths of human sorrow. "Iyour true self awakening in a euphoric concerto.

"Look! Ityou feel invincible, forever outside the crushing weight of mortality, blessed with immortality.

You flutter your wings; they gleam in the sunlight as you hover above the cloud-rich landscapes, gazing at the divine city filled with others like you. Serephim and cherubs dance across the horizon, intertwining in play and song, their laughter echoing through the radiant skies.

This is your truth! You are a seraphI was never human; I am a seraphim!My name is... Seraphiel!not just in your angelic form but in the profound epiphany of existence. No more anguish of memoryve always belonged here. The adventure of eternity awaits, and you wish for nothing less.